

DMCA Notice and Copyright Infringement Policy

This website respects the intellectual property rights of others and expects its users and content providers to do the same. It is our policy to respond to clear notices of alleged copyright infringement that comply with the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (“DMCA”) and other applicable laws.

If you believe that material available on or through this website infringes your copyright, you may submit a written notification to our designated DMCA agent containing the following information:

A physical or electronic signature of the person authorized to act on behalf of the owner of the copyright that is allegedly infringed.

Identification of the copyrighted work claimed to have been infringed, or, if multiple copyrighted works on a single online site are covered by a single notification, a representative list of such works.

Identification of the material that is claimed to be infringing or the subject of infringing activity and that is to be removed or access to which is to be disabled, and information reasonably sufficient to permit us to locate the material (such as specific URLs).

Information reasonably sufficient to permit us to contact you, such as an address, telephone number, and, if available, an email address.

A statement that you have a good-faith belief that the use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law.

Upon receipt of a valid DMCA notice, we will investigate the claim and remove or disable access to the allegedly infringing material as appropriate. We may notify the user or content provider responsible for the material so that they may submit a counter-notification if they believe the material was removed as a result of mistake or misidentification.

Repeat Infringers

In appropriate circumstances and at our sole discretion, we may terminate the accounts or access of users who are deemed repeat infringers.
